

JOHN NAGLE CO.

The John Nagle Co. is a family-owned, international seafood wholesale distributor located in Boston, Massachusetts. The John Nagle Co., established in 1887 by Robert's great-grandfather, John, has pioneered direct access to seafood producers globally by meeting the needs of their customers and vendors through market knowledge, long-term relationships and innovative solutions to market conditions. The John Nagle Co. currently imports from many countries in all areas of the world and sells fresh, live, smoked, salted and frozen seafood.

For over 127 years the Nagle family has developed strong relationships with aquaculturalists, processors and many of the oldest fishing families in the United States and around the world. We are committed to our extensive global network of suppliers and strive to maintain and develop these strong partnerships. The facility that the Nagle family operates out of is SQF Level 3 Certified and HACCP certified, ensuring the highest quality seafood.

ROBERT NAGLE - VICE PRESIDENT OF JOHN NAGLE CO.

Robert Nagle serves as Vice President of the John Nagle Co., Robert has been a fundamental part of his family's business since 1971 alongside several siblings and cousins, and is now actively mentoring the fifth generation of children, nieces and nephews.

As Co-Founder of the Boston Fisheries Foundation, Robert is a leader and activist in the New England seafood industry, devoted to bringing together the fisheries communities of New England in order to support and expand the fisheries.
